Global Opportunities

Global Experience
As globalization continues to impact the way the world lives and works, international experiences have become vital to language and culture majors and provide vital experiences to students, allowing them opportunities to build critical skills in navigating cultural customs and understanding the nuances of conducting international business. Through international study and internships, students can gain valuable skills employers are looking for: communication and interpersonal skills, flexibility, motivation, and a real-life perspective on business applications worldwide.

Nearly 90% of surveyed executive recruiters believe bilingualism is critical to global business success, according to the Korn/Ferry International Executive Recruiter Index. Participation in a Global Education program contributes to this by enabling students to improve their interpersonal and language skills while broadening their understandings of international business practices.

The W. P. Carey School of Business recommends the language and culture administration global education program, the Chinese language and culture administration global education program and the Spanish language and culture administration global education program for students majoring in language and culture.

Career Opportunities

Graduates of this program are equipped to play a key role in companies and organizations seeking new markets or dealing with international interests domestically. The demand for multilingual business professionals is strong in the hotel and tourism industry and in consulting, banking and finance, international trade, sports management and media companies.

Career example titles and salaries listed below are not necessarily entry level, and students should take into consideration how years of experience, geographical location, and required advanced degrees or certifications may affect pay scales.
