Investigative Journalism, MA

CSINVJOUAMA

Led by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalists in the nation's first master's degree program in investigative journalism, you learn to investigate and uncover stories that expose injustice and ensure accountability, and you earn experience publishing hard-hitting stories in national media outlets long before graduation. You can prepare to become a powerhouse investigative storyteller in as few as 12 months.

Program Description

Degree Awarded: MA Investigative Journalism

The MA program in investigative journalism prepares students to launch high-level investigative reporting careers at the world's most prestigious news organizations.

This program is designed for career switchers with experience in fields such as law, health, business, government and the arts, and for early-career to mid-career journalists who want to develop specialization in investigative techniques.

Students combine their existing knowledge with investigative reporting techniques, multimedia production skills and interdisciplinary research methods to produce storytelling with deep public impact.

At a Glance

- College/School: Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Comm
- Location: Downtown Phoenix

Degree Requirements

36 credit hours including the required capstone course (MCO 570)
Required Core (21 credit hours)
MCO 502 Journalism Skills (8)
MCO 503 Media Law (3)
MCO 510 Data Journalism (3)
MCO 530 History, Philosophy and Ethics of Journalism (3)
MCO 544 Accountability in Journalism (1)
MCO 545 Techniques of Investigative Reporting (3)

Research (6 credit hours)

Culminating Experience (9 credit hours)
MCO 570 Capstone Experience (9)

Additional Curriculum Information
Students must complete a total of eight credit hours of MCO 502, which is offered at variable credit hours and can be taken multiple times.

Students must complete six credit hours of interdisciplinary research methods courses offered under the MCO 591 course listing. Selection of these courses will require departmental approval.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must fulfill the requirements of both the Graduate College and the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

Applicants are eligible to apply to the program if they have earned a bachelor's or master's degree in any discipline or related field from a regionally accredited institution.

Applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in the last 60 hours of their first bachelor's degree program, or applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (scale is 4.00 = "A") in an applicable master's degree program.

Applicants are required to submit:

1. graduate admission application and application fee
2. official transcripts
3. three letters of recommendation
4. GRE scores
5. professional resume
6. letter of intent
7. proof of English proficiency
Additional Application Information

An applicant whose native language is not English must provide proof of English proficiency regardless of current residency. Applicants must receive a score of 100 (iBT) or better on the TOEFL.

Applicants should provide a 300- to 500-word statement describing interest in investigative journalism, career goals and how previous work and academic experience have prepared the student for success.

Application Deadlines

Fall

expand

Global Opportunities

Global Experience

Study abroad is possible for graduate students, with more than 50 program opportunities spanning all seven continents. Faculty-directed programs tend to be the best fit for graduate students; taking courses over the summer or during academic breaks with ASU professors offers close mentorship and professional network growth in many fields of study while earning ASU credit. Exchange program participation is also possible with careful planning. Students can find more information on the Global Education website at https://goglobal.asu.edu/students/graduate-students.

Career Opportunities

Investigative reporting is in high demand in news organizations, large and small, around the world, and graduates of the Cronkite School's Master of Arts in investigative journalism program are uniquely prepared to excel in these positions, applying experience with investigative reporting techniques, data analysis and immersive storytelling using text, photo, video and audio content.

Contact Information

Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Comm | CRONK 302
cronkitegrad@asu.edu | 602-496-5555