Nonprofit Leadership and Management, Minor PPNLMMIN

Are you purpose-driven? You can channel that passion into action that makes a difference through a career in a nonprofit organization (https://youtu.be/LQjmQXq79xk). Changing the world for the better is not restricted to a major. You can combine your primary program with this minor's competency-based educational emphasis.

Description

The minor program in nonprofit leadership and management empowers students to positively impact the community in which they work. The nonprofit sector in the U.S. is unique in form and function, with more than 1.6 million organizations in the U.S.

This program is ideal for ASU students who wish to earn a minor that concentrates on the management of nonprofit organizations. Coursework introduces students to the knowledge and skills required for successful professional careers with nonprofit, social sector organizations that exist to improve the quality of life of communities.

Students from various disciplines such as business, communication, education, global studies, museum studies, nursing, public affairs, religious studies, social work and sustainability find this program a beneficial supplement to their existing program as many find that the career pathways from their degree occur within nonprofit organization forms.

This program affords students the opportunity to earn the National Certified Nonprofit Professional credential awarded through the Nonprofit Leadership Alliance; https://www.nonprofitleadershipalliance.org/credential/. Students seeking more information about completing the CNP credential and requirements should refer to the school website.

Enrollment Requirements

GPA Requirement: 2.00

Incompatible Majors: BS in nonprofit leadership and management, including the American Indian studies concentration

Students pursuing the nonprofit leadership and management bachelor's degree may earn the certified nonprofit professional credential along with their major upon successfully completing both curricular and cocurricular requirements. (Students should see an advisor for details.)

Other Enrollment Requirements: None

Current ASU undergraduate students may pursue a minor and have it recognized on their ASU transcript at graduation. Students interested in pursuing a minor should consult their academic advisor to declare the minor and to ensure that an appropriate set of courses is taken. Minor requirements appear on the degree audit once the minor is added. Certain major and minor combinations may be deemed inappropriate by the college or department of either the major program or the minor. Courses taken for the minor may not count toward both the major and the minor. Students should contact their academic advisor for more information.

Career Opportunities

Graduates with a nonprofit leadership and management minor find opportunities in diverse settings involving a wide range of missions, including arts and culture, environmental, health, youth development, etc. Some graduates find employment with local, grassroots, direct-service nonprofits while others find work with grant-making foundations.
